Case No. 4:20-cv-00437-SRB

EXHIBIT 1

PROPOSED JURY INSTRUCTIONS UPON WHICH THE PARTIES AGREE

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 1

Members of the Jury Panel, if you have a cell phone or other communication device, please take it out now and turn it off. Do not turn it to vibration or silent; power it down. During jury selection, you must leave it off. (Pause for thirty seconds to allow them to comply, then tell them the following:)

From now until you are discharged from the case, and for those who are selected to try the case, from now until you retire to deliberate on a verdict at the end of the trial, you may not discuss this case with anyone, even the other jurors. You may tell your family, close friends, and other people about your participation in this trial so that you can explain when you are required to be in court. If you do so, you should warn them not to ask you about this case, tell you anything they know or think they know about it, or discuss this case in your presence.

Furthermore, you must not post any information on any social media or a social network, or communicate with anyone about the parties, witnesses, participants, claims, evidence or anything else related to this case.

After you retire to deliberate on a verdict at the end of the trial, you must discuss the case with only the other jurors. You must not tell anyone else anything about the jury's deliberations in this case until after I accept your verdict or until I give you specific permission to do so. If you discuss the case with someone other than the other jurors during deliberations, you may be influenced in your verdict by their opinions. That would not be fair to the parties and it would result in a verdict that is not based entirely on the evidence and the law.

Also, while you are in the courthouse and until you are discharged in this case, do not provide any information to anyone by any means about this case. Thus, for example, do not talk face-to-face or use any electronic device or social media or in any other way communicate to anyone any information about this case until I accept your verdict or until you have been excused as a juror.

Those of you who are selected for the jury in this case must decide this case based only on the evidence received by the court here in the courtroom and the instructions on the law that I give the jury. Do not do any research -- on the Internet, through social media, in libraries, in the newspapers, or in any other way -- or make any investigation about this case on your own. Do not visit or view any place discussed in this case and do not use Internet programs or other device to search for or to view any place discussed in the testimony. Also, do not research any information about this case, the law, the people involved, including the parties, the witnesses, the lawyers, or the judge until you have been excused as jurors.

The important reason for your not talking with anyone about the case is that the parties have a right to have this case decided only on evidence they know about and that has been presented here in court. If you do some research or investigation or experiment that we don't know about, then your verdict may be influenced by inaccurate, incomplete or misleading information that has not been tested by the Rules of Evidence, the trial process, including the oath to tell the truth and by cross-examination. Each of the parties is entitled to a fair trial, rendered by an impartial jury, and you must conduct yourself so as to maintain the integrity of the trial process. If you decide a case based on information not presented in court, you will have denied the parties a fair trial in accordance with the rules of this country and you will have done an injustice. It is very important that you abide by these rules. Failure to follow these instructions, and indeed any instructions the court gives you throughout the trial could result in the case having to be retried. And failure to follow these and the court's other instructions could result in you being held in contempt of the court and punished accordingly.

[Are there any of you who cannot or will not abide by these rules concerning communication with others during this trial?] (And then continue with other voir dire.)

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 1.01 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 2

During this recess, and every other recess, do not discuss this case among yourselves or with anyone else, including your family and friends. Do not allow anyone to discuss the case with you or within your hearing. “Do not discuss” also means do not e-mail, send text messages, blog or engage in any other form of written, oral or electronic communication, as I instructed you earlier.

You must decide this case only from the evidence received by the court here in the courtroom and the instructions on the law that I give you. Do not read any newspaper or other written account, watch any televised account or streamed video account, or listen to any streamed internet or radio program on the subject of this trial. Do not conduct any Internet research or consult with any other sources about this case, the people involved in the case, or its general subject matter. You must keep your mind open and free of outside information. Only in this way will you be able to decide the case fairly based solely on the evidence received in court and my instructions on the law. If you decide this case on anything else, you will have done an injustice. It is very important that you follow these instructions.

I may not repeat these things to you before every recess, but keep them in mind until you are discharged.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 1.02 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 3

When I use the word “evidence,” I mean the testimony of witnesses; documents and other things I receive as exhibits; facts that I tell you the parties have agreed are true; and any other facts that I tell you to accept as true.

Some things are not evidence. I will tell you now what is not evidence:

1. Lawyers’ statements, arguments, questions, and comments are not evidence.
2. Documents or other things that might be in court or talked about, but that I do not receive as exhibits, are not evidence.
3. Objections are not evidence. Lawyers have a right – and sometimes a duty – to object when they believe something should not be a part of the trial. Do not be influenced one way or the other by objections. If I sustain a lawyer’s objection to a question or an exhibit, that means the law does not allow you to consider that information. When that happens, you have to ignore the question or the exhibit, and you must not try to guess what the information might have been.
4. Testimony and exhibits that I strike from the record, or tell you to disregard, are not evidence, and you must not consider them.
5. Anything you see or hear about this case outside the courtroom is not evidence, and you must not consider it unless I specifically tell you otherwise.

Also, I might tell you that you can consider a piece of evidence for one purpose only, and not for any other purpose. If that happens, I will tell you what purpose you can consider the evidence for and what you are not allowed to consider it for. You need to pay close attention when I give an instruction about evidence that you can consider for only certain purposes, because you might not have that instruction in writing later in the jury room.]

Some of you may have heard the terms “direct evidence” and “circumstantial evidence.” You should not be concerned with those terms, since the law makes no distinction between the weight to be given to direct and circumstantial evidence.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 1.04 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 4

During the trial, I will sometimes need to talk privately with the lawyers. I may talk with them here at the bench while you are in the courtroom, or I may call a recess and let you leave the courtroom while I talk with the lawyers. Either way, please understand that while you are waiting, we are working. We have these conferences to make sure that the trial is proceeding according to the law and to avoid confusion or mistakes. We will do what we can to limit the number of these conferences and to keep them as short as possible.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 1.05 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 5

At the end of the trial, you will have to make your decision based on what you recall of the evidence. You will not have a written copy of the testimony to refer to. Because of this, you have to pay close attention to the testimony and other evidence as it is presented here in the courtroom.

If you wish, however, you may take notes to help you remember what witnesses say. If you do take notes, do not show them to anyone until you and your fellow jurors go to the jury room to decide the case after you have heard and seen all of the evidence. And do not let taking notes distract you from paying close attention to the evidence as it is presented. My courtroom deputy will provide each of you with a pad of paper and a pen or pencil. At each recess, leave them in the jury room or elsewhere as directed by myself or the courtroom deputy.

When you leave at night, your notes will be locked up and returned to you when you return. When the trial is over your notes will be destroyed. They will not be read by anyone other than you.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 1.06 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 6

Jurors, to make sure this trial is fair to [both/all] parties, you must follow these rules:

First, do not talk or communicate among yourselves about this case, or about anyone involved with it, until the end of the trial when you go to the jury room to consider your verdict.

Second, do not talk with anyone else about this case, or about anyone involved with it, until the trial has ended and you have been discharged as jurors.

Third, when you are outside the courtroom, do not let anyone tell you anything about the case, or about anyone involved with it [until the trial has ended and your verdict has been accepted by me]. If someone tries to talk to you about the case [during the trial], please report it to the courtroom deputy.

Fourth, during the trial, do not talk with or speak to any of the parties, lawyers, or witnesses in this case – not even to pass the time of day. It is important not only that you do justice in this case, but also that you act accordingly. If a person from one side of the lawsuit sees you talking to a person from the other side – even if it is just about the weather – that might raise a suspicion about your fairness. So, when the lawyers, parties and witnesses do not speak to you in the halls, on the elevator or the like, you [must] understand that they are not being rude. They know they are not supposed to talk to you while the trial is going on, and they are just following the rules.

Fifth, you may need to tell your family, close friends, and other people that you are a part of this trial. You can tell them when you have to be in court, and you can warn them not to ask you about this case, tell you anything they know or think they know about this case, or talk about this case in front of you. But, you must not communicate with anyone or post information in any manner about the parties, witnesses, participants, claims, evidence, or anything else related to this case.

You must not tell anyone anything about the jury's deliberations in this case until after I accept your verdict or until I give you specific permission to do so. If you talk about the case with someone besides the other jurors during deliberations, it looks as if you might already have decided the case or that you might be influenced in your verdict by their opinions. That would not be fair to the parties, and it might result in the verdict being thrown out and the case having to be tried over again. During the trial, while you are in the courthouse and after you leave for the day, do not give any information to anyone, by any means, about this case. For example, do not talk face-to-face or use any electronic device, such as a telephone, cell phone, smart phone, Blackberry, PDA, computer, or computer-like device. Likewise, do not use the Internet or any Internet service; do not text or send instant messages; do not go on or use any internet or other medium, including an Internet chat room, blog, or other websites such as Facebook, MySpace, YouTube, or Twitter. In other words, do not communicate with anyone about this case – except for the other jurors during deliberations – until I accept your verdict.

Sixth, do not do any research -- on the Internet, in libraries, newspapers, or otherwise – and do not investigate this case on your own. Do not visit or view any place discussed in this case, and do not use the Internet or other means to search for or view any place discussed in the testimony. Also, do not look up any information about this case, the law, or the people involved, including the parties, the witnesses, the lawyers, or [the judge/me/the court].

Seventh, do not read or otherwise receive any information, including any news stories or Internet articles or blogs that are about the case, or about anyone involved with it. Do not listen to any radio or television reports, or digital streaming, about the case or about anyone involved with it. [In fact, until the trial is over I suggest that you reduce or limit [avoid at all] reading or receiving any digital streaming or any newspapers or news journals, and avoid listening to any television or radio newscasts at all.] I do not know whether there will be news reports about this case, but if there are, you might accidentally find yourself reading or listening to something about the case. If you want, you can have someone collect information or clip out any stories and set them aside to give to you after the trial is over. [I can assure you, however, that by the time you have heard all the evidence in this case, you will know what you need to [decide it] [return a just verdict].

The parties have a right to have you decide their case based only on evidence admitted here in court. If you research, investigate, or experiment on your own, or get information from other [places] [sources], your verdict might be influenced by inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading information. Witnesses here in court take an oath to tell the truth, and the accuracy of their testimony is tested through cross-examination. All of the parties are entitled to a fair trial and an impartial jury, and you have to conduct yourselves in a way that assures the integrity of the trial process. If you decide a case based on information not admitted in court, you will deny the parties a fair trial. You will deny them justice. Remember, you have taken an oath to follow the rules, and you must do so. [If you do not, the case might have to be retried, and you could be held in contempt of court and possibly punished.]

Eighth, do not make up your mind during the trial about what your verdict should be. Keep an open mind until after you and your fellow jurors have discussed all the evidence.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 1.08 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 7

The trial will proceed in the following manner:

First, the plaintiff's lawyer may make an opening statement. Next, the defendant's lawyer may make an opening statement. An opening statement is not evidence, but it is a summary of the evidence the lawyers expect you will see and hear during the trial.

After opening statements, the plaintiff will then present evidence. The defendant's lawyer will have a chance to cross-examine the plaintiff's witnesses. After the plaintiff has finished presenting its case, the defendant may present evidence, and the plaintiff's lawyer will have a chance to cross-examine its witnesses.

[After you have seen and heard all of the evidence from both sides, the lawyers will make closing arguments that summarize and interpret the evidence. Just as with opening statements, closing arguments are not evidence. [Before] [After] the closing arguments, I will instruct you further on the law. After the lawyers' arguments and after the court's instructions you will go to the jury room to deliberate and decide on your verdict.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.

8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 1.09 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 8

During this recess, and every other recess, do not discuss this case among yourselves or with anyone else, including your family and friends. Do not allow anyone to discuss the case with you or within your hearing. “Do not discuss” also means do not e-mail, send text messages, blog or engage in any other form of written, oral or electronic communication, as I instructed you before.

Do not read or listen to any statements about this trial in any method of communication, including any newspaper or other written account, any televised account, any radio program, any digital streaming or other production, on the Internet or elsewhere. Do not conduct any Internet research or consult with any other sources about this case, the people involved in the case, or its general subject matter. You must keep your mind open and free of outside information. Only in this way will you be able to decide the case fairly based solely on the evidence and my instructions on the law. If you decide this case on anything else, you will have done an injustice. It is very important that you follow these instructions.

I may not repeat these things to you before every recess, but keep them in mind throughout the trial.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 2.01 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 9

Certain charts and summaries have been shown to you in order to help explain the facts disclosed by the books, records, or other underlying evidence in the case. Those charts or summaries are used for convenience. They are not themselves evidence or proof of any facts. If they do not correctly reflect the facts shown by the evidence in the case, you should disregard these charts and summaries and determine the facts from the books, records or other underlying evidence.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 2.11 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 10

You will remember that certain [schedules] [summaries] [charts] were admitted in evidence [as Exhibits __ and __]. You may use those [schedules] [summaries] [charts] as evidence, even though the underlying documents and records are not here. [However, the [accuracy] [authenticity] of those [schedules] [summaries] [charts] has been challenged. It is for you to decide how much weight, if any, you will give to them. In making that decision, you should consider all of the testimony you heard about the way they were prepared.]

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 2.12 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 11

Testimony will now be presented to you in the form of a deposition. A deposition is the recorded answers a witness made under oath to questions asked by lawyers before trial. The deposition testimony to be offered [was recorded in writing and now will be read to you] [was electronically video recorded and that recording now will be played for you]. You should consider the deposition testimony, and judge its credibility, as you would that of any witness who testifies here in person. [You should not place any significance on the manner or tone of voice used to read the witness's answers to you.]

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 2.14 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 12

You [have heard] [are about to hear] testimony from [expert] [witness's name] who [testified] [will testify] to opinions and the reasons for his opinions. This opinion testimony is allowed because of the education or experience of this witness.

You should judge this opinion testimony just as you would any other testimony. You may accept it or reject it and give it the weight as you think it deserves, considering the witness's education and experience, the reasons given for the opinion, and all other evidence in this case.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 3.08 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 13

Members of the jury, the instructions I gave at the beginning of the trial and during the trial are still in effect. Now I am going to give you some additional instructions.

You have to follow all of my instructions – the ones I gave you earlier, as well as those I give you now. Do not single out some instructions and ignore others, because they are all important. [This is true even though I am not going to repeat some of the instructions I gave you [at the beginning of] [during] the trial.]

[You will have copies of [the instructions I am about to give you now] [all of the instructions] in the jury room. [You will have copies of some of the instructions with you in the jury room; others you will not have copies of. This does not mean some instructions are more important than others.] Remember, you have to follow all instructions, no matter when I give them, whether or not you have written copies.]

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 3.01 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 14

I have not intended to suggest what I think your verdict[s] should be by any of my rulings or comments during the trial.

[During this trial I have asked some questions of witnesses. Do not try to guess my opinion about any issues in the case based on the questions I asked.]

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 3.02 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 15

In deciding what the facts are, you may have to decide what testimony you believe and what testimony you do not believe. You may believe all of what a witness said, or only part of it, or none of it.

You may consider a witness's intelligence; the opportunity the witness had to see or hear the things testified about; a witness's memory, knowledge, education, and experience; any reasons a witness might have for testifying a certain way; how a witness acted while testifying; whether a witness said something different at another time; whether a witness's testimony sounded reasonable; and whether or to what extent a witness's testimony is consistent with other evidence you believe.

[In deciding whether to believe a witness, remember that people sometimes hear or see things differently and sometimes forget things. You will have to decide whether a contradiction is an innocent misrecollection, or a lapse of memory, or an intentional falsehood; that may depend on whether it has to do with an important fact or only a small detail.]

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 3.03 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 16

There are rules you must follow when you go to the jury room to deliberate and return with your verdict.

First, you will select a foreperson. That person will preside over your discussions and speak for you here in court.

Second, it is your duty, as jurors, to discuss this case with one another in the jury room. You should try to reach agreement, if you can do this without going against what you believe to be the truth, because all jurors have to agree on the verdict.

Each of you must come to your own decision, but only after you have considered all the evidence, discussed the evidence fully with your fellow jurors, and listened to the views of your fellow jurors.

Do not be afraid to change your mind if the discussion persuades you that you should. But, do not come to a decision just because other jurors think it is right, or just to reach a verdict. Remember you are not for or against any party. You are judges – judges of the facts. Your only job is to study the evidence and decide what is true.

Third, if you need to communicate with me during your deliberations, send me a note signed by one or more of you. Give the note to the [marshal] [bailiff] [court security officer] and I will answer you as soon as I can, either in writing or here in court. While you are deliberating, do not tell anyone - including me - how many jurors are voting for any side.

Fourth, your verdict has to be based only on the evidence and on the law that I have given to you in my instructions. Nothing I have said or done was meant to suggest what I think your verdict should be. The verdict is entirely up to you.

Finally, the verdict form is your written decision in this case. [The form reads: (read form)]. You will take [this] [these] form[s] to the jury room, and when you have all agreed on the verdict[s], your foreperson will fill in the form[s], sign and date [it] [them], and tell the [marshal] [bailiff] [court security officer] that you are ready to return to the courtroom.

[If more than one form was furnished, you will bring the unused forms in with you.]

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 3.06 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 17

As I told you earlier, it is your duty to consult with one another, deliberate, and try to reach agreement, if you can do that without violating your conscience. Of course, you must not give up your honest beliefs about the evidence just because of what other jurors believe to be the truth, or just because you want to reach a verdict. Each of you must decide the case for yourself, but only after considering and discussing the evidence with your fellow jurors.

When you deliberate, you should be willing to re-examine your own views and change your mind, if you decide you were mistaken. For all jurors to agree, you will have to openly and frankly examine and discuss the questions you have to decide. Listen to the opinions of others and be willing to re-examine your own views.

Finally, remember that you are not representing [either][any] side. You are, instead, judges – judges of the facts; judges of the believability of the witnesses; and judges of the weight of the evidence. Your only job is to find the truth from the evidence. You may take all the time you need.

There is no reason to think that this case would be tried in a better way or that a different jury would be more likely to reach a decision. If you cannot agree on a verdict, the case is left open, and it will have to be retried at some later time.

[You are reasonable people. Please go back now to continue your deliberations using your best judgment.]

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
8th Cir. Civil Jury Instr. § 3.07 (2020)

Joint Proposed Instruction No. 18

The verdict form included in these instructions contains directions for completion and will allow you to return the permissible verdicts in this case. All of you must agree in order to return any verdict.

This proposed instruction is agreed upon by the parties.
